

NEW WEBSTORE ACCOUNTS

2021 CCIA REWARD PROGRAM

In an effort to update the Canadian Livestock Tracking System (CLTS) accounts, CCIA will reward producers who provide updated contact information and their Premises Identification number (PID) when added to the CLTS database at the time of activating a webstore account.

Are the CCIA Webstore and CCIA/CLTS separate accounts?

Yes! Everyone who has ever purchased tags already has a CCIA/CLTS account. However, the webstore is run independently. While your information is mirrored, a CCIA Webstore account must be activated before you can purchase tags directly from CCIA.

What is the difference between buying tags from the CCIA Webstore vs my local retailer?

The choice is yours, there is no difference. The CCIA Webstore offers all approved tags and matching applicators, giving you a full selection at the most competitive price. Order online or by phone and you will receive your tags in the mail 5-7 business days later!

Why is current contact information important?

In the event of an animal traceback, the Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA) must be able to contact all sites who may be involved.

Why does CCIA need my PID?

Your PID number will be essential when reporting the receipt or departure of animals from a premises.

A PID will be required to purchase tags and complete movement events after proposed regulatory amendments (expected in 2022).

If you don't have a PID, please contact your provincial government or visit this page on CCIA's website:
